

THE SABBATH DAWNS A HOLIER LIGHT

Toni Thomas

Brett Stewart

Slowly, with assurance ♩ = 68

1. The Sab-bath dawns a ho - lier light: The works of com - mon days now cease; The
2. This Sab-bath day I make a place For ho - lier thoughts and high - er praise, To 3. As Sab-bath hours — draw t'ward night; To - mor - row's toil I soon will face With way of truth is near and bright; Now strife and care find sweet re - lease. As mend de - sire, re - fine my tastes, And fit my heart for heav - en's grace. For high - er pur - pose, great - er might, For all the res - pite of this day. To -

I re - new my cov - e - nants, The prom - is - es that bind and bless, Sweet if with God I would re - side, Then I must know and love his ways. Sweet day I viewed with clear - er sight The good and er - rant in my heart; Sweet

Sab - bath day, my sure de - fense, Teach me to dwell in right - eous - ness.
Sab - bath day, with me a - bide In god - li - ness from day to day.
Sab - bath day, be my de - light: Teach me to choose that good - ly part.